

Suiting up Dräger SPC 4800

91.06.556 | 18.11-1 | HO | PP | Änderungen vorbehalten | © 2018 Drägerwerk AG & Co. KGaA

D-51776-2018

Open the protective suit and prepare it for donning.

D-5191-2018

Without shoes on, step through the open zipper on the back, first into the right trouser leg and then into the left trouser leg.

D-5231-2018

Pull up the leg cuff and step into the boot with the sock on.

Option 1: Facial cuff over the full-face mask

D-5258-2016

Put on the mask and pull the straps evenly towards the back.

D-5232-2018

Guide your arms into the sleeves and gloves. If necessary, you can wear cotton gloves as undergloves.

D-5260-2018

Slip the hood over the full-face mask.

D-5273-2018

Position the facial cuff over the mask. Avoid creating any wrinkles between the mask and cuff.

Option 2: Facial cuff under the full-face mask

D-5232-2018

Guide your arms into the sleeves and gloves. If necessary, you can wear cotton gloves as undergloves.

D-5245-2018

Slip the hood over your head.

D-5257-2018

Position the facial cuff on your face below your chin to ensure an optimally sealed fit.

D-5306-2018

Position the half-tightened mask on the facial cuff and pull the cuff slightly towards the back. Smooth out any wrinkles in the hood.

D-5320-2018

Evenly pull the straps of the mask towards the back. The sealing lip of the mask must rest on the facial cuff, not on the suit material or seam.

D-5282-2018

Have a second person close the zipper.

D-5216-2018 / D-5220-2018

Fasten the snaps first and then the covering flap. Ensure that the hook and loop fastener is properly aligned.

D-5152-2014

If necessary, you can use overgloves. Pull the sleeve cuffs over them.

D-3208 / ST-715-2006

Attach the compressed air breathing apparatus and/or connect an external breathing air supply.

Dräger recommends putting on the protective suit with the help of a second person. Before using the Dräger SPC 4800, always carefully read and understand the instructions for use.
