

Dräger Professional Services – Wireless Health Check

It can be a challenge for hospitals to ensure the reliable operation of their patient monitoring and IT networks over time. A proactive Wireless Health Check from Dräger can help you maintain more consistent and cohesive communications between your wireless network and installed Dräger monitors and telemetry systems.

WHAT IS A DRÄGER WIRELESS NETWORK HEALTH CHECK?

The Wireless Health Check, a service provided by Dräger Professional Services, provides information on the overall condition of your wireless network as it pertains to communication between your telemetry products and wireless network. It includes heat maps of hallways and shared areas, as well as overviews of co-channel interference and non-Wi-Fi interference. It also provides information about the latest validated code versions for the wireless network and Dräger equipment.

WHAT POTENTIAL PROBLEMS WILL BE ADDRESSED?

Our Wireless Health Check will give you proactive information on a wide range of issues, including:

- Decreased network performance
- Network drops (waveform interruptions and off line events)
- Slow screen refresh
- Incompatibility issues

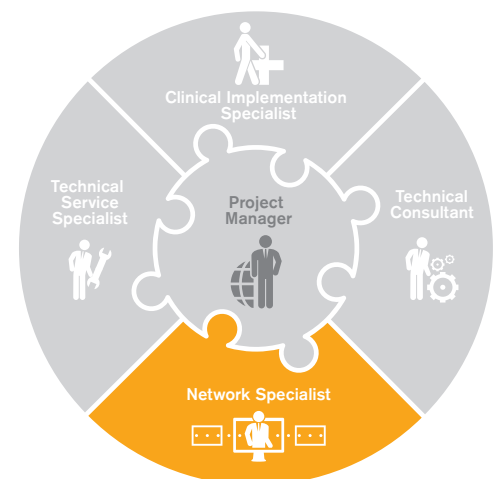

By addressing these issues, you can optimize the performance and reliability of your wireless network.

DRÄGER PROFESSIONAL SERVICE TEAM

Our team of professional service experts can help you maintain critical care performance of the patient monitoring and IT systems across your hospital.

Your Wireless Health Check will be led by a certified Dräger wireless network specialist who will assess your network using industry-leading wireless survey and spectrum analysis technology
